How are we standing
In this world today:
United?
Divided?
Competing with others?
Never to overcome
The many difficulties
We face each day.
There is no end
When working alone.
But,
We can defeat
The future
When
We work
Together as ONE . . . . .

Languages Are the

Mrs. Zumbrun explains to Tim Henning the proper way to fill in his spelling book.

Diane Gipson tries to explain Julius Caesar to Connie Lewellyn and Donna Fry.

Speech students seem to enjoy the antics of a fellow classmate.

Tom demonstrates the football dressing procedures.

Key to Foreign Understanding

Latin students enjoy the variety of Mrs. Hontz's class.

Spanish III seems to be more fun than work.

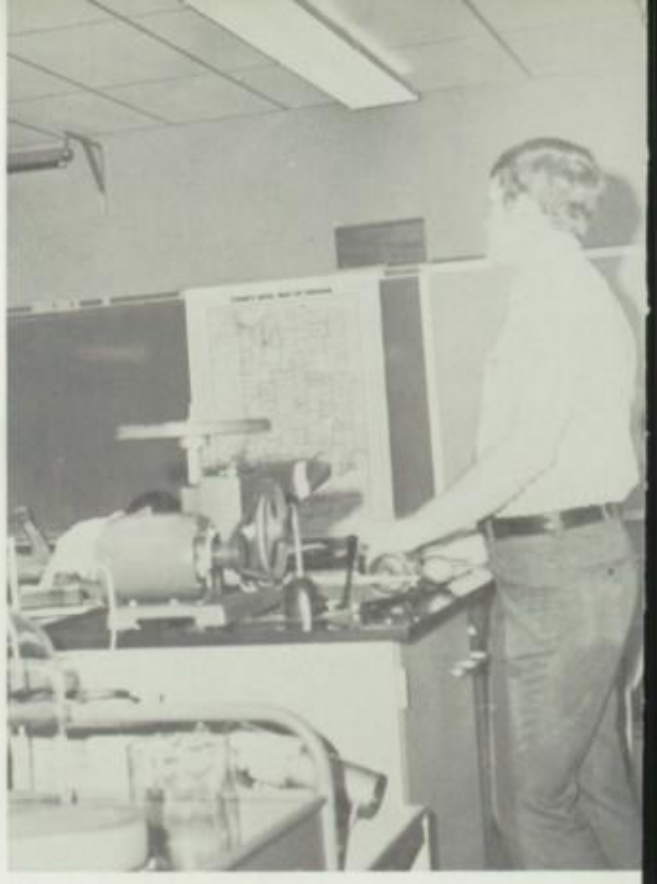
Foreign exchange student Anita Aguilar studies hard.

Science Enlargens the Mind

Science consists of the following courses: Biology, Advanced Biology, Earth Science, Electricity, Chemistry and Physics.

Biology class covers a wide variety from the study of animals and insects to dissecting.

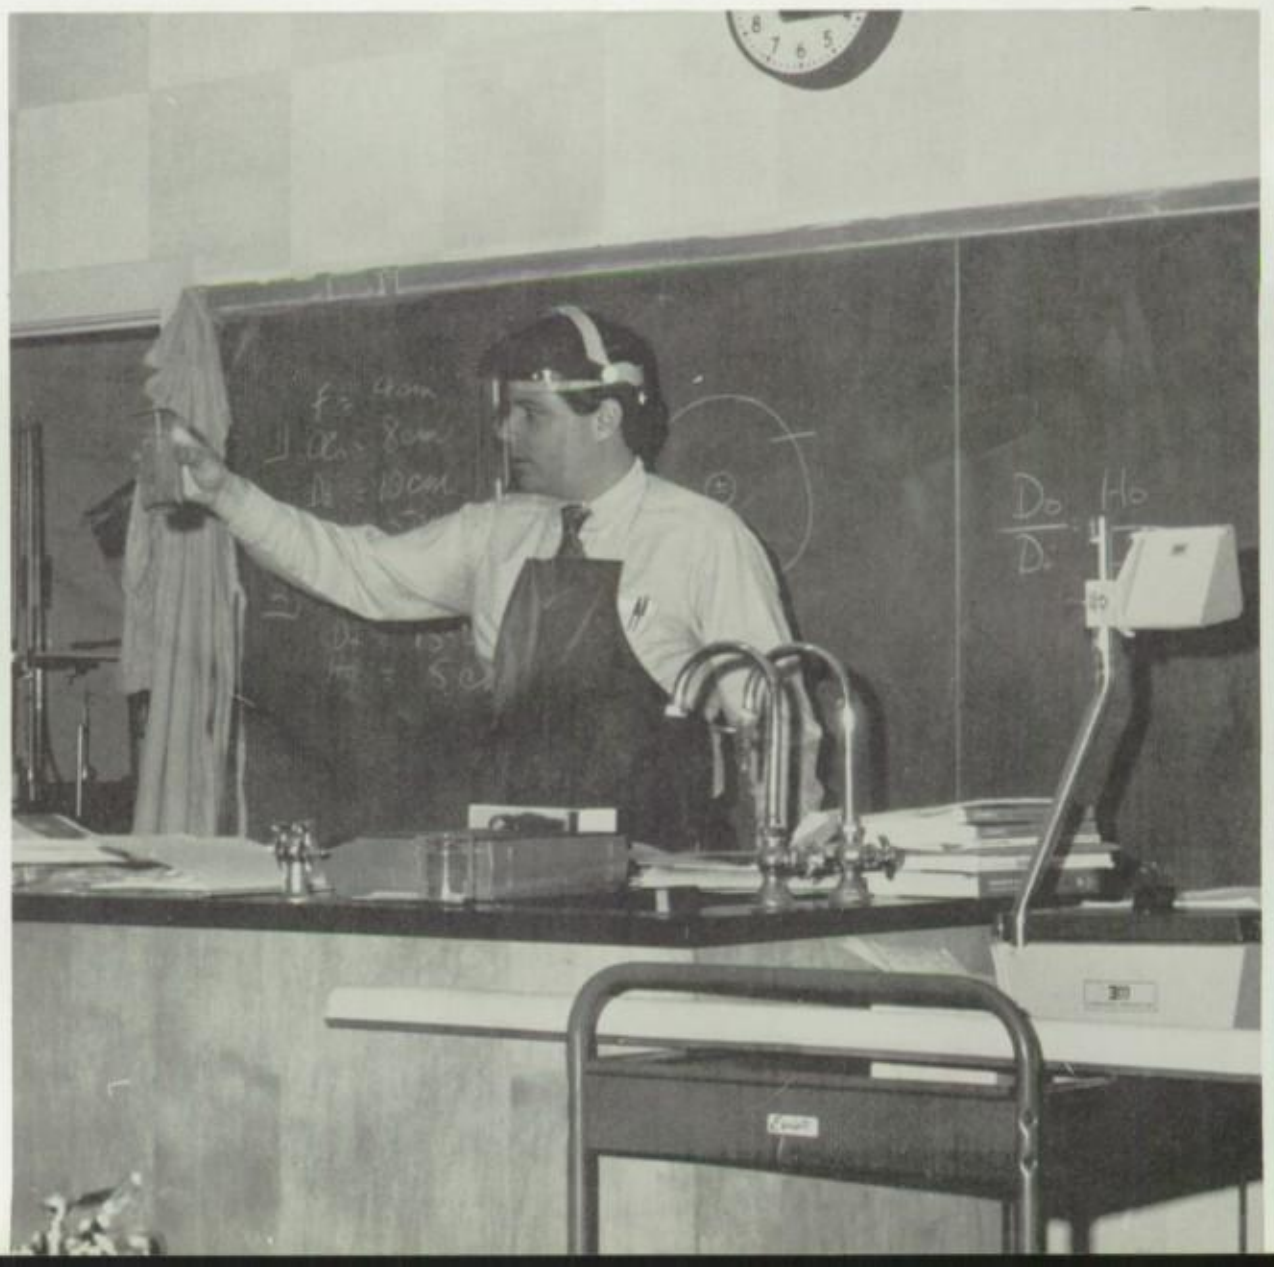
Paul and Bruce are excited because it is their turn to light the bunsen burner.



Mr. Bair explains to his class about the vaccum pump.

Mrs. Delagrange hands test back to Matt Merrill while she substitutes for Biology.

The light bulb does not seem to be the topic of interest today.



C.H.S. mad scientist is at work again.

Health and Guidance Talk About the Now

Mr. Jones, Guidance teacher, helps with the many baffling questions of today's youth. He plays a big part in shaping the minds of many students.

Mr. Arrowsmith, Health teacher, had the assistance of Murgatroid, his skeleton, in teaching his students the anatomy of man.

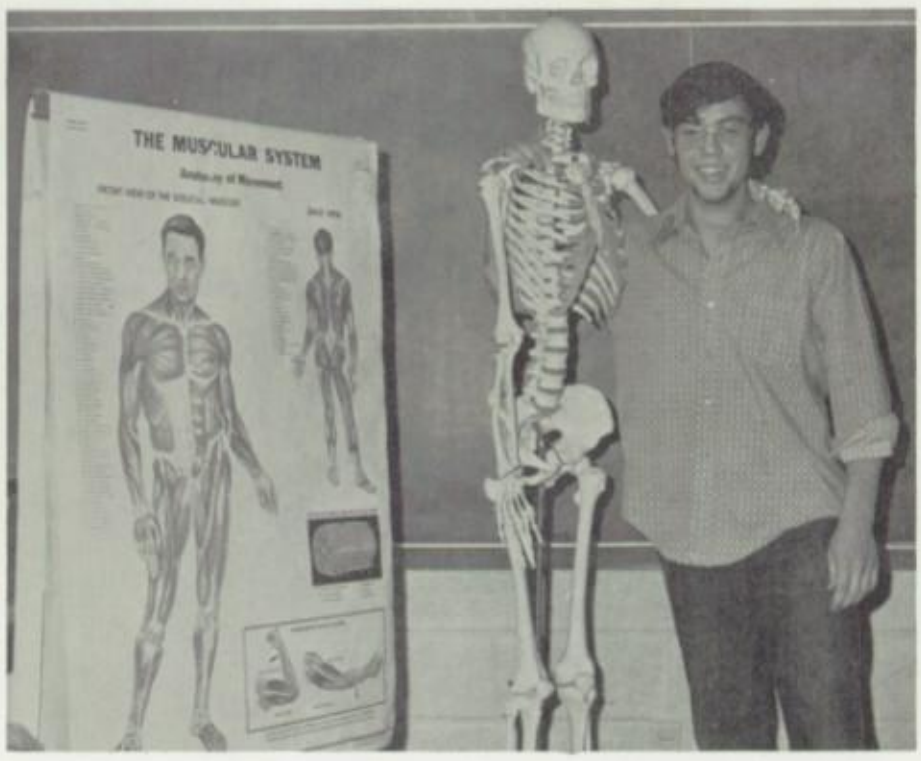
Mr. Arrowsmith also gives a first-aid course, in which cards are given to those who pass with a certain grade set by the Red Cross.

Mr. Arrowsmith explains the heart function.

Mr. Cooper enjoyed his student teaching at CHS.

Mr. Jones demonstrates the danger in smoking.

Larry, your friend needs to put on some weight.



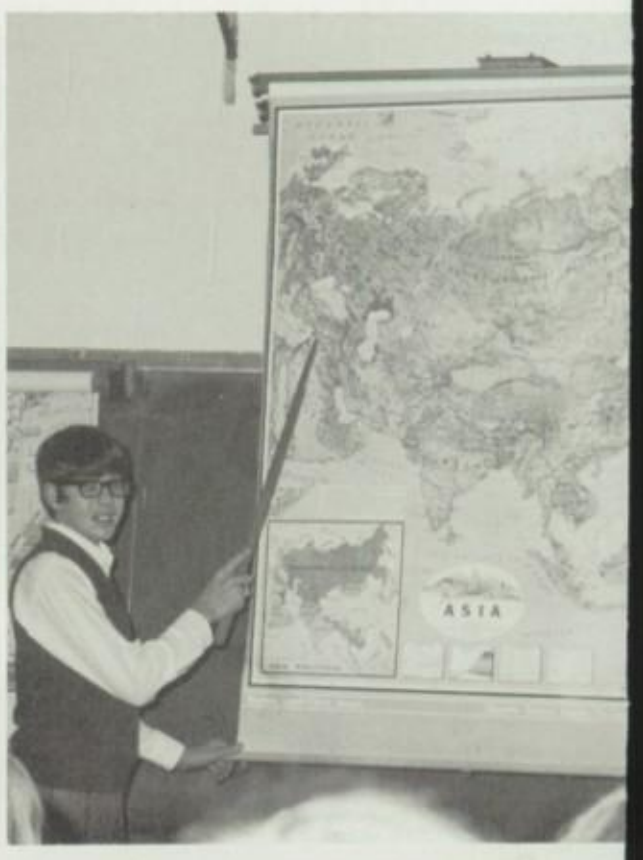
Social Sciences Add New Dimensions to Curriculum

This year the government classes attended a robbery trial in Ft. Wayne and also toured the Whitley County Court House. For a better understanding of how the courts work the government classes held their own trials.

U. S. History classes while studying the slavery issue tried segregation in the classroom. The juniors found they didn't like it at all.

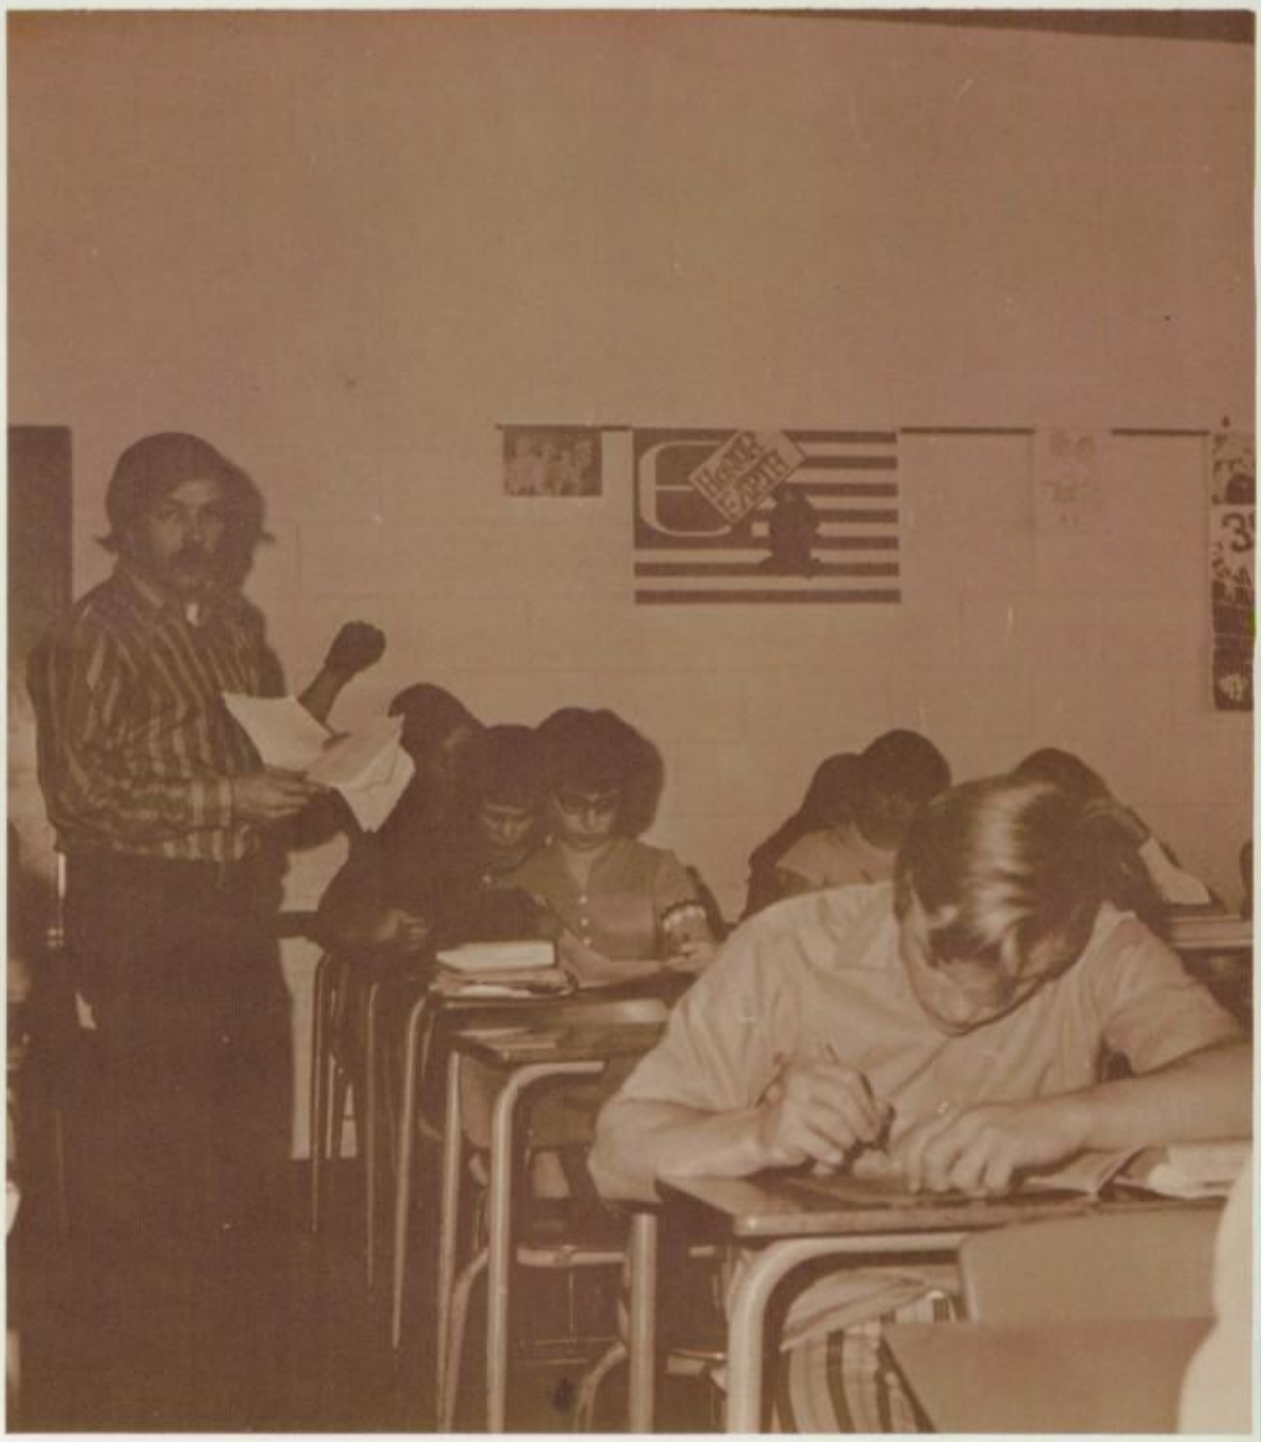
Since this was an election year, Rep. J. Edward Roush came to the school and talked to the juniors and seniors. The students were able to ask him questions concerning his viewpoint on different issues.

Congressman Roush challenges students to accept their responsibilities in our American democracy.



Harold Eyer tells about the parts of Asia.

Aviation class prepares rocket for take off.



Mr. Coyle hands back unwanted test papers.

Business Essential in Commerce

The business department at CHS consisted of Typing, Adv. Typing, Office Practice, Shorthand I and II, Business Math, Business Law, Gen. Business, Economics, Bookkeeping, and Related Instruction.

The teachers were Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Blackburn, Miss Hughes, and Mr. Woodcox.

Tomorrow's stenographers work hard today in Office Practice.

Mrs. Blackburn checks debits and credits which never balance.

Speed and accuracy girls, that's what we want.

This is the way to do it, Keith.

Mr. Woodcox tries to get his Business Law class attention.

Mathematical Problems Expand the Mind

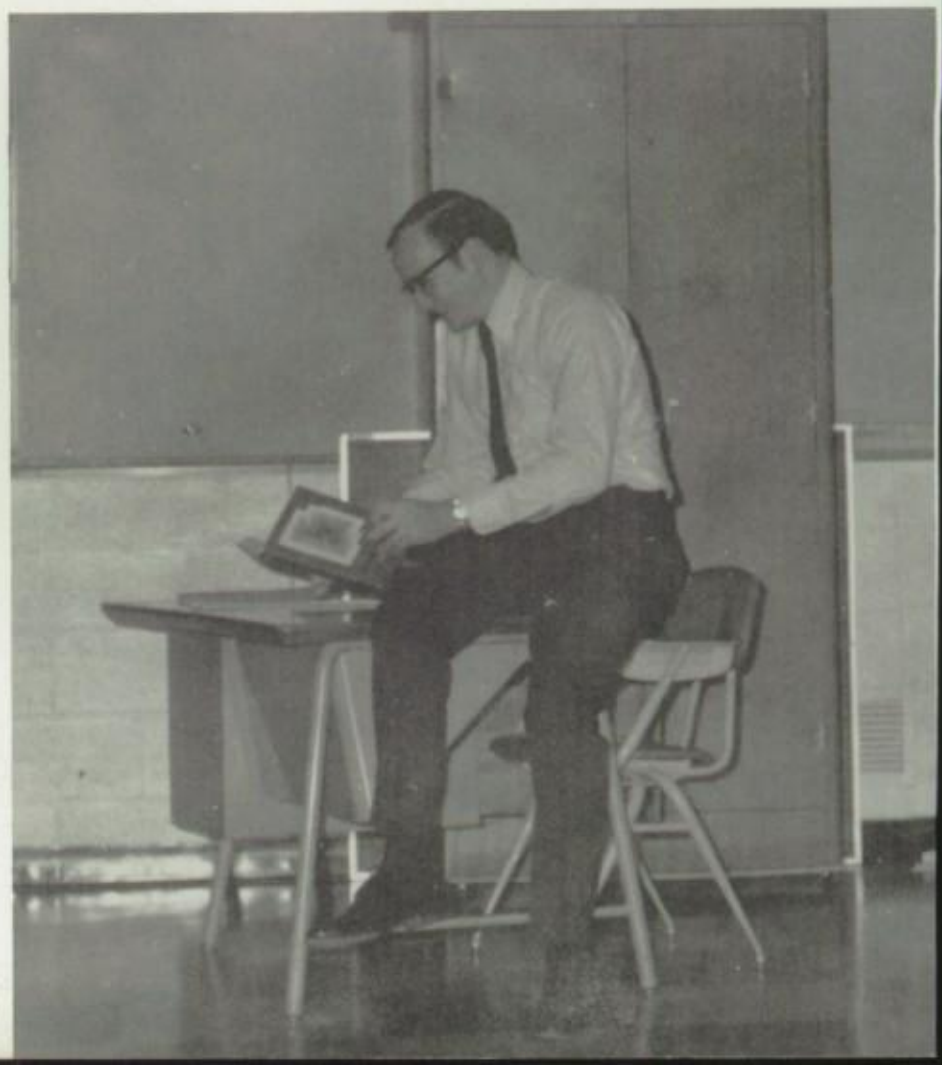
Math at CHS prepares students for their future in the mathematical world. The teachers responsible for this are, Mr. Weaver who teaches Algebra I, II, Geometry, Trig. and College Algebra and Mrs. Hittle who teaches General Math and Algebra I. These teachers want to educate our students for higher abilities in mathematics.

This year Mr. Weaver's student teacher, Diane Salesman helped him prepare lessons and teach the first year algebra students. Also Dale Zeigler under the direction of Mrs. Hittle helped to teach the other Algebra I class. Through this they gained abilities for their future occupation of teaching.

Mrs. Zumbaugh oversees the busy students.

These Algebra II students study the slide rule with determination.

Mr. Weaver computes the points tangent to both spheres to his Geometry class.



Jeff McNeal gets some pointers from Mr. Weaver.

Mr. Weaver prepares for his next Geometry class.

Working Experience Opens Careers

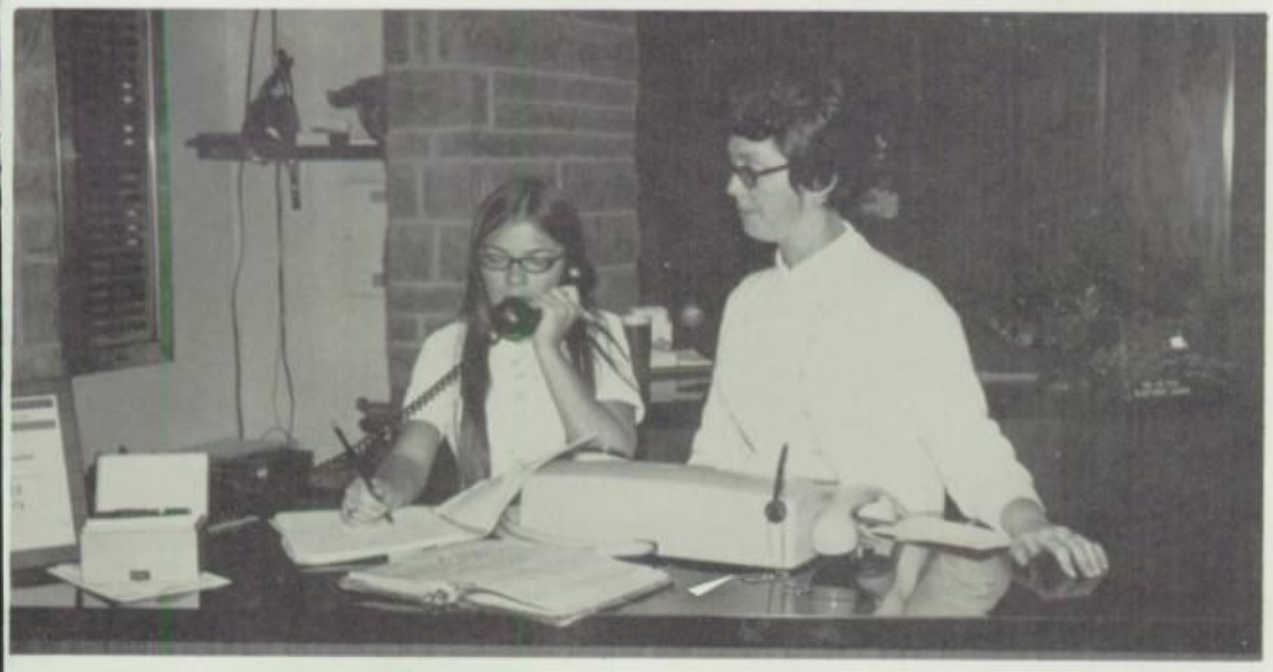
Through the C.O.E. and O.E.A. Clubs, Churubusco High School students gain experience in working in the business world. Mr. Johnson, the coordinator, helps to prepare and place students in business related jobs. Many of these students then go on to work in offices and other places of businesses after graduation.

COE class was under the guidance of Mr. Johnson.

Jan Nicholson checks in a new patient.

"Hot dogs! Hot dogs for sale!"

Val Leitch gets ready for another customer.



Susie Daily prepares for work.

Norma Crabill is poised for work.

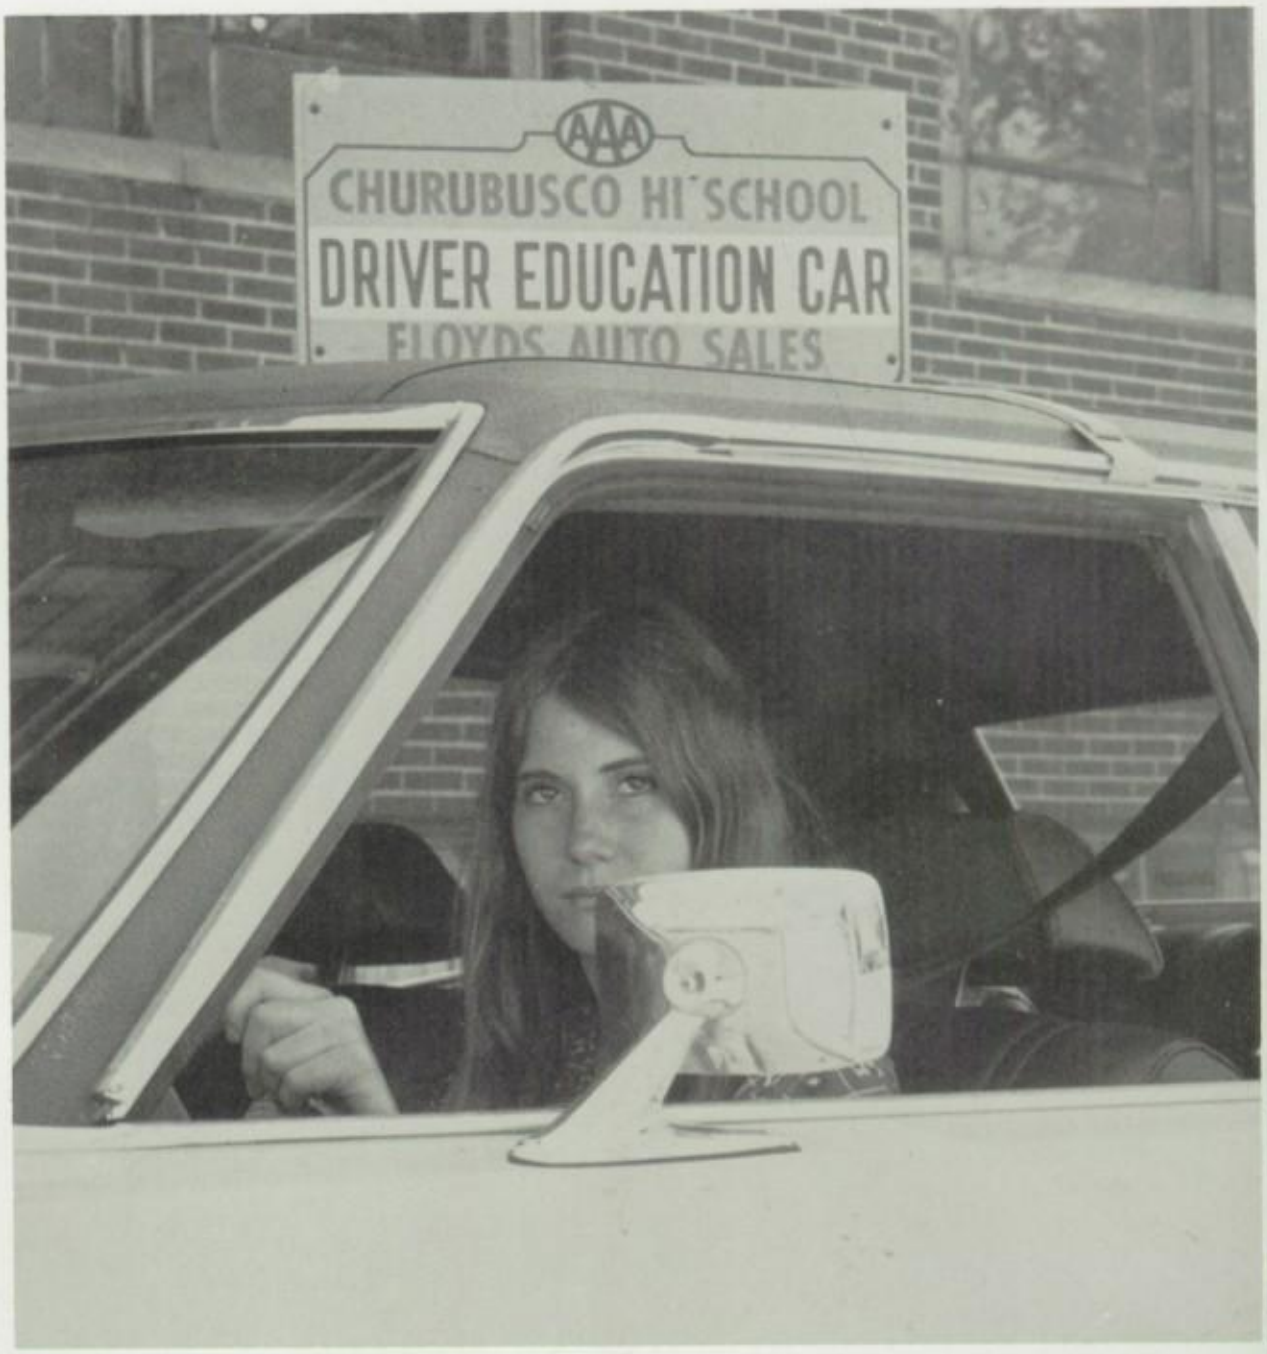
P. E., Driver's Ed. Exercise Abilities

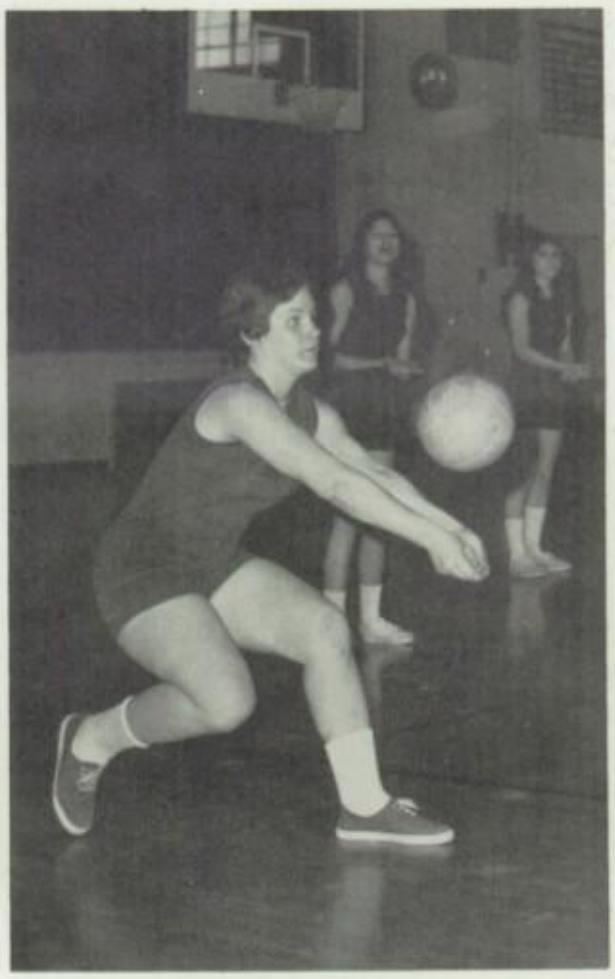
Driver's Ed. classes are held during the summer months at CHS. Many students participated in the course, to improve their driving ability. The students spent many long hours studying to become efficient and careful drivers.

To improve their skills, Junior High and Freshmen students are required to take physical education. During these courses, they become acquainted with sports and sportsmanship.

Will they ever learn?

Look out cruel world—here I come!





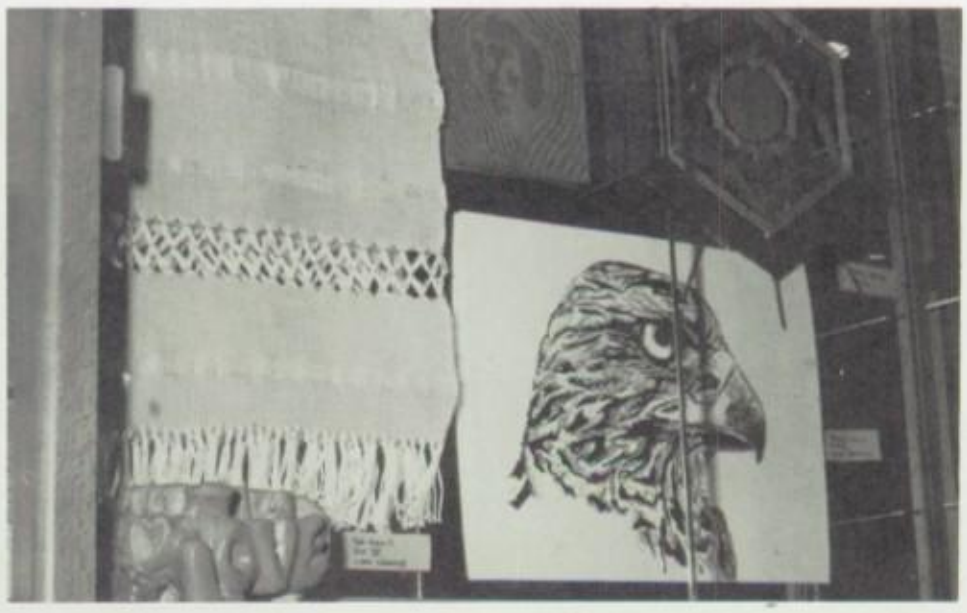
Debbie Pence is on the ball during gym class.

Dave Leazier strains as he throws the ball.

Hands and Minds Are Important Factor in Art and Library Experience

Art roars with unlimited skill.

The art class displays its creative talent to CHS.



Mrs. Tuck observes the students' knack at art work.

Kathy and Vickie are deeply engrossed in covering the books for the library.

Home Ec Shows Aptitude in Sewing and Cooking

The ambition of the home economics class at CHS was to prepare students for their lives in the future. This was achieved by Mrs. Baughman, who taught sewing, cooking and family living.

They fashioned various items, such as pajamas, skirts, dresses, pant suits, jumpers, etc. These were made in various materials, stitches, and sewing techniques. The types of fabrics they worked with were plaids, stripes and flowers that had various textures of cotton, denim, velvet, corduroy, and satins.

Another household skill vitally important in life was cooking. In this part of the class they practiced the preparation of meats, pastries and vegetables in many different ways.

Laura Cassidy and Ellen Gilbert look excited as they pin patterns to their material.

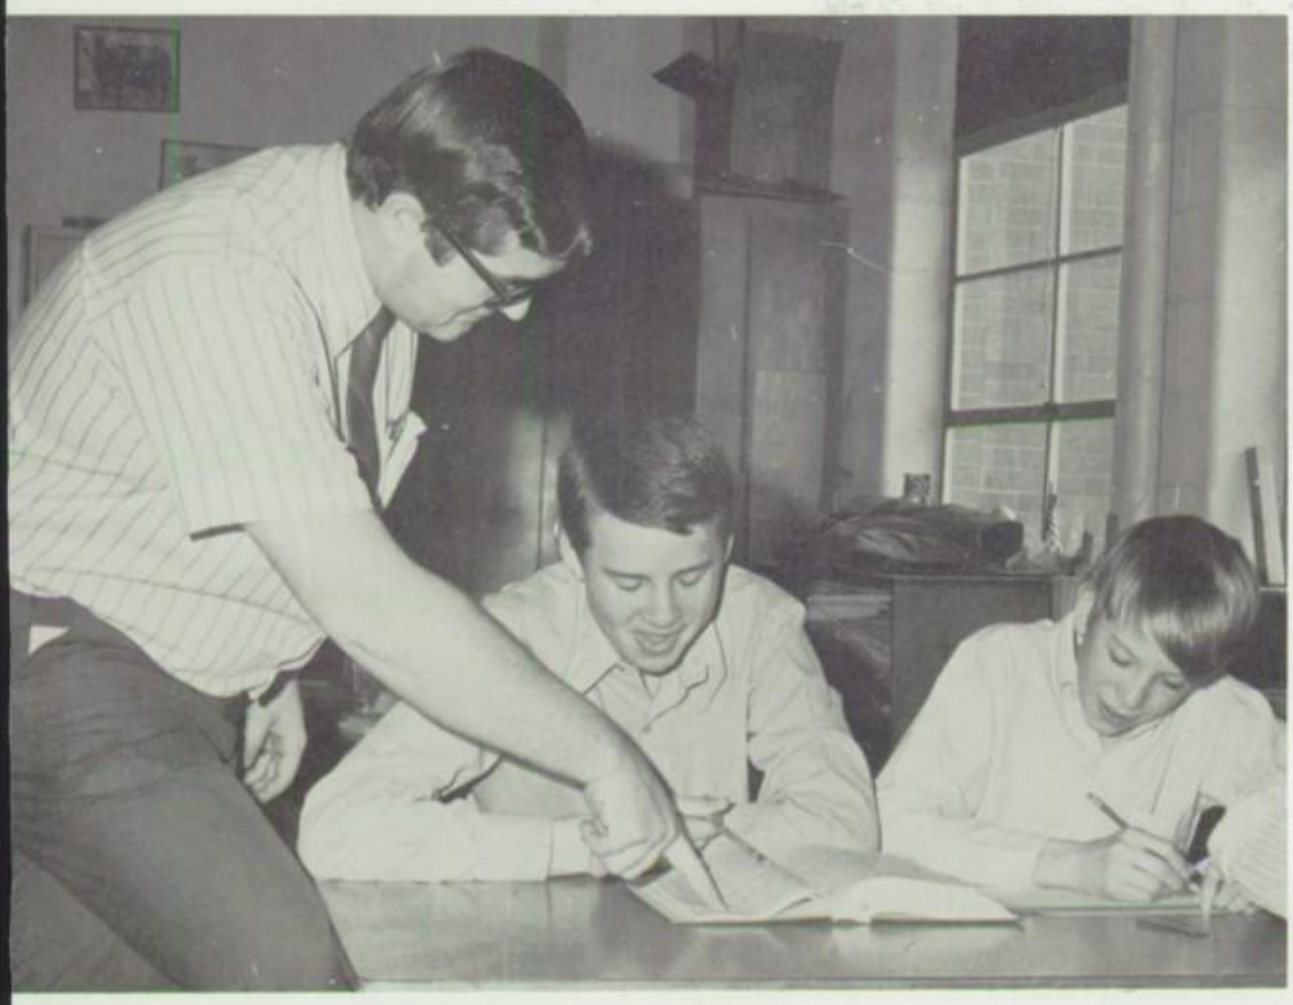
Pearlene Tackett precisely cuts out her pattern as she wonders how it will look after she finishes.

Debbie Reed has a rough time marking darts with a pizza cutter.

Nancy Tipton tries to help Karen Konger fix her machine.

Shop & Ag Begins Building Futures

Why don't you try and read it boys!



The industrial arts teacher, Mr. Summers, taught his specialties: woodworking, mechanical drawing and automechanics. These areas were offered to students in grades 9 through 12.

The agriculture department, taught by Mr. Huntsman, introduced many aspects of farming to students. The boys worked on crop planning, soil conservation, farm equipment and participated in the annual WKJG-TV FFA quiz show. The FFA also has a chapter sweetheart Renee Arehart, who participated in a talent contest.

The industrials arts department taught students how to build and refinish furniture, and the art of drawing and constructing bridges using different techniques.

Smooth, man, smooth.

Yea, they finally did something right!

Renee Arehart, Chapter Sweetheart, shows how to clean up the farm barns.

Gridmen Show Eagle Power

It was an up and down season for the Eagle footballer's as we won 5 lost 4 and were defeated for the conference championship by Norwell. The season had its exciting moments, especially when we handed Woodlan their only loss, 6-0, and the defeat of Carroll, our perennial rival, 8-6. Following the Carroll game, the coin flip between Leo, Woodlan, and Busco found Busco winning the North Division Title. The Eagles, Warriors, and Lions all finished with a 3-1 record.

Randy Davis adds new spark with an interception.

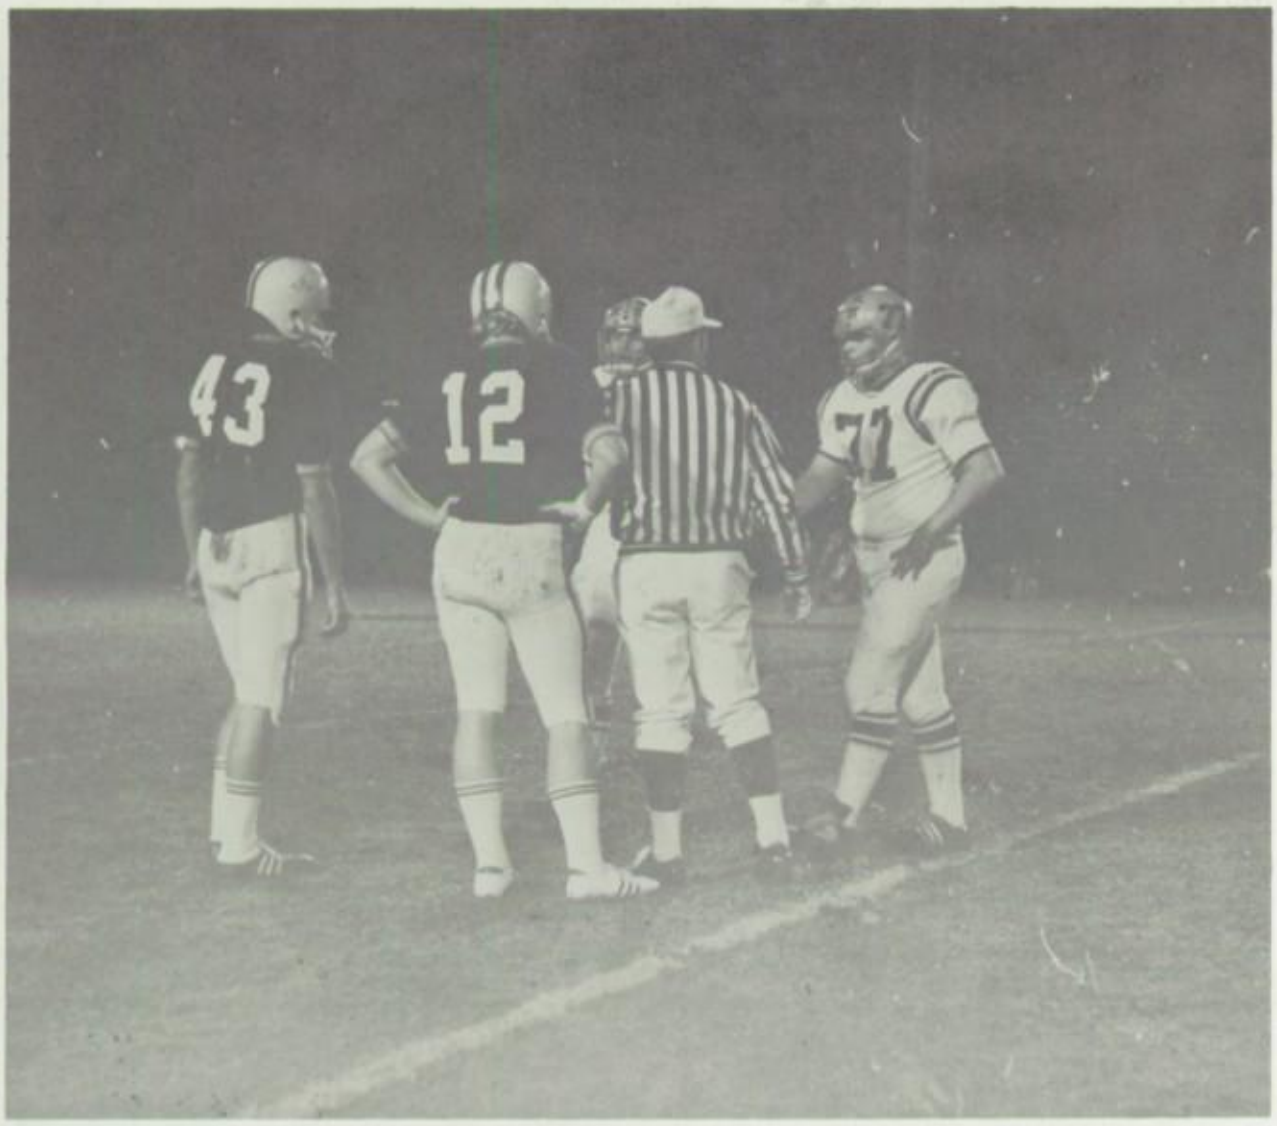
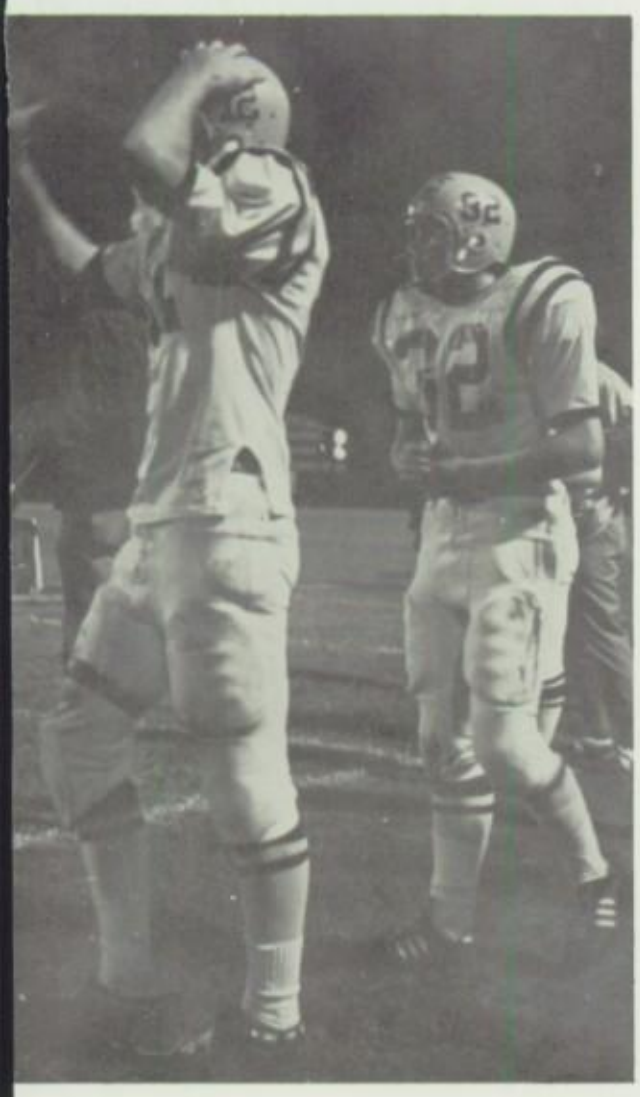
Eagles Make Way to North Championship



"We just didn't generate the offense we needed this season," said head coach Jones. "We shut out four opponents but couldn't get on the scoreboard enough. We also gave up 7 T.D.'s in the last three minutes of the four games we lost which made the score look rather lopsided."

Several records were set this year with Gary Byrd, a four-year letterman, leading the way with a new record in rushing yardage of 655 yards in 126 carries an average of 5.2 yards a carry. A new reception record was made by John Long who caught 17 passes for 227 yards. Ned Egolf set a new punt return record with 8 returns for 180 yards. Mike Bush had a single game total of 14 solo tackles for a new record in that department.

The EAGLES are looking forward to next year with as much optimism. Their overall record stands at 32 wins, 27 losses.



Gary Byrd and Terry Papenbrock watch in despair as an Eagle is tackled by an opponent.

Eaglemen Show Status on Hardwood

This year was rather disappointing for the Eagles, but it was also a building year.

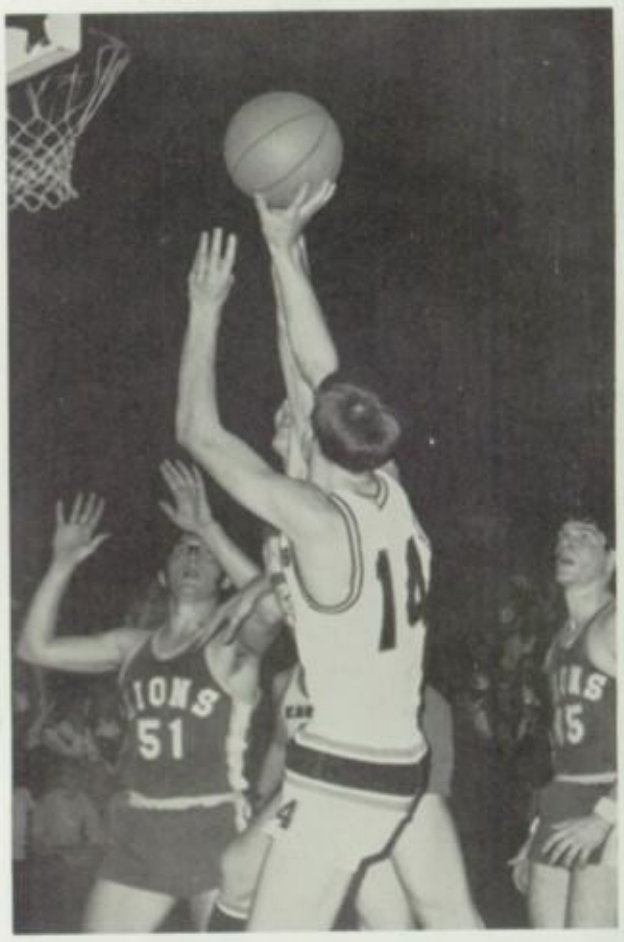
We acquired a new head coach, Mr. Barry Worl, who came to us from a coaching position at Bryant High School. Under his guidance our Eagles gained much playing experience.

Leading scorer was Junior Keith Andorfer with 202 points. Another Junior, Ralph Killworth, led all rebounders with 109. The varsity team consisted of 4 Seniors, and 9 returning lettermen. Senior Dale Zeigler received an honorable mention position on the ACAC All-Conference team.

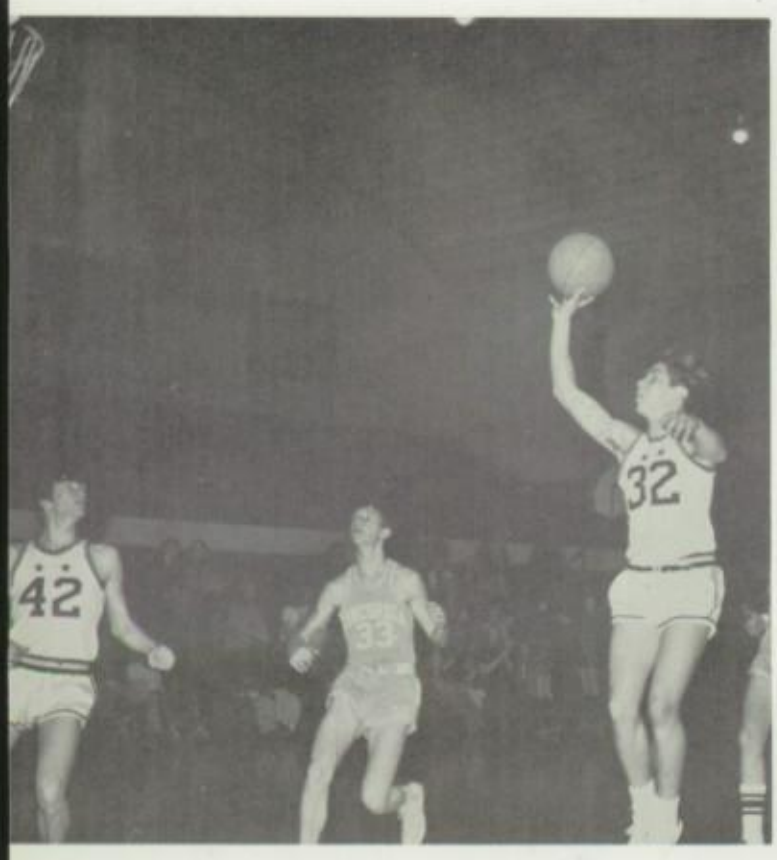
The reserve Eagles had one of the best seasons on record. Coach Bair led his boys into a 16-4 record. Leading scorer for the reserves was Norman Zeigler and Scott Crance led the rebounding.

The Freshmen also did well under Coach Coyle, with a 11-4 season. Jake Imbody had an outstanding year as both leading scorer and rebounder. He totaled 251 points and 134 rebounds in the season. Ken Liggett was the best free throw shooter having a percentage of 74%.

Mr. Worl is already busy making plans for next year knowing that the Eagles can't miss when they fly Together as ONE.



Varsity Joe Hooten moves in to score and make his shot successful.



Don LaRue goes in for another two points.

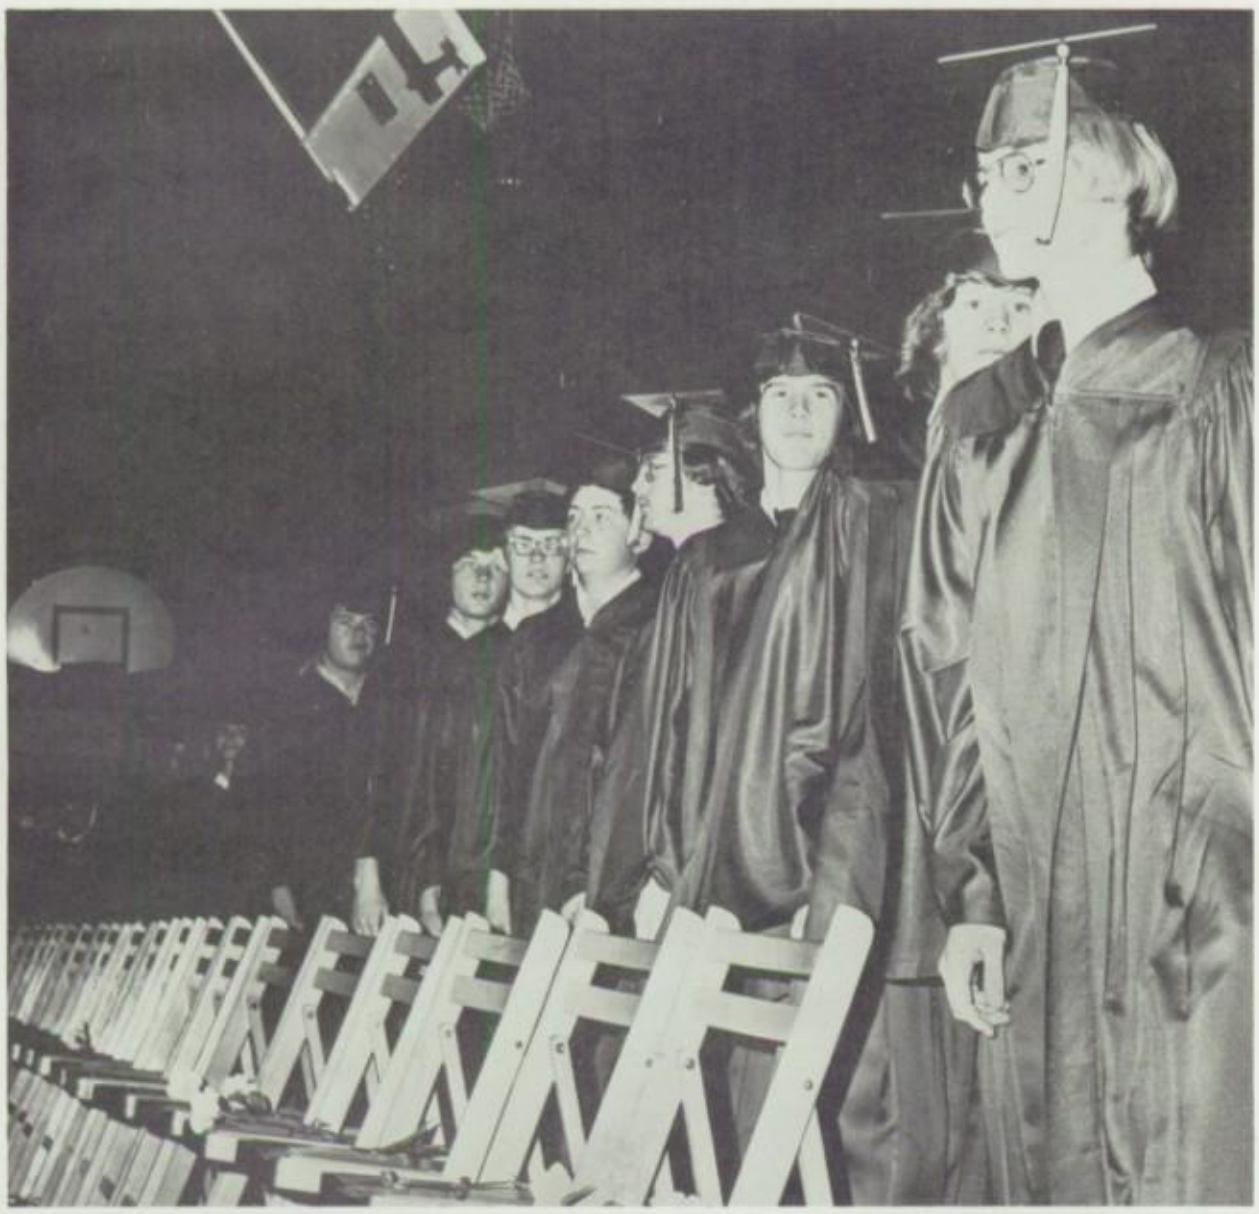
Graduation Sets Off a New Beginning



The class of 1972 graduated on May 23rd in the high school gymnasium. There were approximately 76 graduating members in the class.

The caps and gowns were wine colored, and each girl carried a pink carnation.

The speaker for the commencement exercises was Reverend Petznik, a marriage counselor from Fort Wayne, Indiana. His address was, "Using What You Have."

The class valedictorian was Nellie Young, and the class salutatorian was Anne Zumbrun.

Mr. Jacob Delagrange announced each graduate while Mr. Everett Jones, the president of the school board, awarded each with a diploma.

The emptiness of the first row symbolizes the final goal of twelve years.

As Mr. Delagrange announces each graduate, Mr. Jones presents his diploma.

Memories are all the thoughts . . . That echo from the past
. . . To linger in the human heart . . . As long as it may last . . . They are the vision of a day . . . That vanished into night . . . Except for one eternal star . . . Forever clear and bright . . . They are the houses on the street . . . The flowers everywhere . . . And youthful songs of yesteryear
. . . Without a single care . . . And memories are diaries
. . . of many moons ago . . . when promises were painted on . . . The whiteness of the snow . . . When everything appeared to have . . . A more enduring name . . . Where now the beauty of it all . . . Is never quite the same . . .
